Just a note to say.....Well done everyone on walking to school last week, sometimes in lots of wet weather - certificates will be in trays this week. The children have all been showing some of our learning powers this week and have earned lots of cubes for our class reward jar and have been thinking about what treat they would like.....A pyjama party is top of their list this week! Let's get some more cubes everyone! Parents with children in other year groups – can we politely ask that older siblings wait outside the nursery to prevent the mixing of bubbles. An adult is always positioned at the door and able to keep an eye on them while you settle the nursery children. Thank you.

Celebrations...
